

cdesigner.eu

this project focus on networking education for wide group of users from school up to all a bit interested in this field of application. Networking section ist mainly dedicated to CISCO device administration and use Cisco PacketTracer as simulation environment. In voice section is introduced GNS netork emulating environment.

Other section are in state of creation and need to be populated. Please be patient, next content would comming in next days.

If you feel, that pages are helpfull, please spread info about us or appropriate article with social share buttons located in bottom part of all pages.